

SAMPLE LESSON PLANS

Grade 9 – Health Promotion

Unit 22

SOLs:

9.1.g Describe the importance of health habits that promote personal wellness.

Title: Wellness Challenge: Small Changes

Objectives/Goals:

- Students will learn about and create “small changes” to their lifestyle which will benefit them personally with positive, healthy results
- Students will learn how to identify areas of positive change and implement them into their own daily lives
- Students will describe the benefits and importance of these healthy changes

Note: This game should be played over a one to two month period (while other lessons are being taught) with periodic checking in by the instructor to see how the game is going.

Materials:

- Small Changes Bingo Worksheet
- Blank Small Changes Bingo Worksheet
- Month Wellness Challenge Ideas Sheet

Procedure:

Step 1: Introduce Game

- Make a class set of copies of the “Small Changes Bingo” game card.
- Read each box in the game sheet with the students and call on students to cite examples of what they can do for each

- Explain to students that they will be taking the sheet home and will be attempting to make and keep track of the small changes listed on the sheet

Step 2: Start the Game

- Depending on the time allotted by the instructor, give students two weeks to a month to complete the “Small Changes Bingo” worksheet. Each time they accomplish one of the items listed on the card, they should cross it off and provide evidence of each (a signature from a witness, a picture included as an attachment, etc).
- The object of the game will be to cross off as many squares from the sheet as possible in the time allotted by the instructor.

Step 3: Create Your Own Month Long Wellness Challenge

- Make a class set of copies of the “Month Wellness Challenge” blank bingo card
- Make a class set of copies of the “Ideas for Month Wellness Challenge” sheet
- Pass out both sheets to students. Inform students they will be creating their own wellness bingo card using the ideas from the “Ideas” worksheet. Discuss as many of the ideas from that sheet as you prefer, but leave room for imagination of the students to also come up with their own set of wellness challenges that may be more personalized to suit their own set of goals.
- Allow students to fill out and “customize” their “Month Wellness Challenge” sheet. Tell students they will have one month to accomplish as many of the small changes on their sheet as possible. Assign a turn-in date to see how many they can do by that date. Remind them to gather evidence for each accomplishment.

Step 4: Assessments

- When the month deadline has been reached for the personalized wellness sheets, students will bring their sheets to class for discussion.
- As an exit ticket to the day, students should write a 2 to 3 paragraph reflection of their experiences that includes the following information:
  - Of all the changes they made, what were the 3 most remarkable changes they made?
  - Did they develop any positive habits from the exercise?
  - Did anyone notice any of the positive changes they made?
  - Do they plan on keeping up these changes? Why or why not.
